The most important treatment happens after the staff goes home.

Since 1956, Guest House has returned more than 5,000 priests, brothers, deacons and seminarians to active ministry after their bouts with alcoholism were treated in one of our facilities. We are often asked what makes our treatment so unique. We believe that God has empowered us to provide the right environment for this special population of God's servants to regain their wholeness, their health, and their vocations.

We do have an excellent staff, and the world renowned Mayo Clinic provides the medical services to our clients.

But our guests sometimes say that the most important treatment at Guest House happens after the staff goes home - in conversations on the porch or on walks around the campus or talks in the dining room or around the AA tables.

There is something special about this group of men, alike in the uniqueness of their vocations, who come together to begin the recovery process at Guest House. That's why we are here when the need for help arises. That's why we were founded 43 years ago.

"So many of our mission programs depend on leadership and selflessness."

"Sister helps us in so many ways, but mostly she cares about us."

"I can't imagine a day without Sister. That's why I chose Catholic healthcare."

Touching hearts. Touching minds. Touching lives.

Today throughout the United States and the world are women religious who have all experienced "the Guest House journey." Each one of them is a grateful graduate of Guest House, recovering from alcoholism or other addictions. All of them are positively touching hearts, minds and lives.

Many are school teachers or nurses in hospitals and convalescent homes; some are retired from these responsibilities. Others are administrators in their religious communities who are depended upon for their leadership skills. Still others are mission personnel both here and abroad, or caregivers in centers for the homeless, poor, and terminally ill.

Mostly, these sisters are healthy, full of renewed purpose, and are working in vitally needed ministries.

The accredited and licensed treatment centers of Guest House are located at Lake Orion, Michigan (for women religious) and Rochester, Minnesota (for priests and male religious).

Both centers are places of hope and healing!
